To ensure material submitted to the Doing our bit project can form part of the worldwide commons, Mosman Library aims to make all content and metadata available for reuse with a minimum of restrictions.

All content not already in the Public Domain that is contributed to Doing our bit, Mosman 1914-1918 will be made available with a Creative Commons Attribution-ShareAlike 3.0 Australia (CC BY-SA 3.0) licence. This means that, when content is posted to the Doing our bit website, the user irrevocably grants third parties the right to freely use that content, as long as they attribute the work to the author and share alterations of that content under the same conditions. If the content contributed is in the Public Domain, it will be made available under the terms of the Creative Commons CC0 1.0 Universal Public Domain Dedication. You guarantee that:

- the material that you submit is not copyright protected; or
- you own the rights to this material; or
- the owner of these rights has authorised you to submit the material under the following conditions.
- For the content you contribute (such as a video, a photo, a diary, a picture or audio material), you are allowing everybody to use this content in almost any way they wish. However, they must attribute the content to the rights owner. And if they make alterations to the content, they have to allow others to use the altered content under the same conditions.
- For the descriptive data you submit (such as descriptions or tags) so your content can be found by search engines, you are allowing everybody to use these descriptive data in almost any way they like, without further conditions.
